

Elman W. Campbell Museum Outreach Program

The Elman W. Campbell Museum is offering a variety of outreach programs to bring to your location. In a one-hour presentation, you will learn about our local museum, its mandate and the artifacts we collect. Specific to each theme will be historical objects to view and reproductions to handle up close.

Grandma's Attic in a Suitcase

See what vintage treasures and collectibles we have inside our suitcase! Learn about our past through these objects and what they meant to people's everyday lives, way back when.

From the Toy Box

Look at historical toys and play with replicas; see how toys have changed over the years. Learn about the socio-economic and cultural values of the time.

WWI Travelling Backpack – contains an assortment of artifacts that belonged to two Newmarket men. Learn about their history and how going to war changed their lives. Get a glimpse into the life of a soldier through the objects in our backpack.

Indigenous Peoples

Learn about the Seven Grandfather Teachings and Indigenous, Métis and Inuit peoples. We will use cultural artifacts and reproductions to spark storytelling.
